The Barn - A History. . .

The Clevedon Youth and Community Centre ("The Barn") is the successor to the original Clevedon Youth Club, which was opened in 1962 following the creation of the Clevedon Youth Centre Trust (Registered Charity No: 304520) with an added community dimension. In 1993, the design and costing of a building to be erected on the site now occupied by The Barn was commissioned. In March 1994, fund-raising began with an appeal for £120,000. The money was raised, and the Centre was completed, and opened in November 1996, when it was officially named The Barn.

The Clevedon Youth Centre Management Committee (CYCMC), which is the operational arm of the Clevedon Youth Centre Trust, took over responsibility for running the Centre, from 1 April 1997, including striking a suitable balance between youth and community use. The building is currently held in trust by Clevedon Town Council, but continues to be run by the CYCMC.

The CYCMC continues to work actively to develop The Barn as a commercially viable facility, operating in accordance with the aims of the Clevedon Youth Centre Trust, seeking appropriate local authority and other grant support. The CYCMC also provides facilities, and some support, for Clevedon Youth Provision (CYP), a North Somerset Council organisation, who currently run all the youth activity at The Barn. In 2009 the CYCMC welcomed the completion of the Clevedon Children's Centre along side, and the mutual benefits this will bring.

Who's Who?

The Barn is run by the Centre Manager, Annie Smith who works part time (variable hours) and she is responsible for everything related to the operation of the Centre and all its' users.

In the normal working day the main hall is used by local community groups covering all ages and abilities. The meeting room is also used by community agencies for 1:1 sessions and small groups.

The Barn has also developed a reputation as a welcome source of local information and aims to provide as broad a selection as possible. If you need local details or have information which may be of use to others in the community - please let us know.

North Somerset Council's Clevedon Youth Provision have their office base upstairs within the original Barn and also run youth sessions in the main hall, generally in the evenings and after school. The team is headed by Monica Stanley and a full Youth Programme is available separately.

The operation of the adjoining Children's Centre is managed by North Somerset Council. Contact Jenny Kingston or Elaine Mortimer for information.

What's on?

The Barn is an established Youth & Community Centre, now with the added bonus of a brand new Children's Centre extension, forming an exciting new complex. Being centrally located, and open everyday, it offers great opportunities for all members of the community and for all age groups to enjoy the facilities.

As well as a range of activities for adults and children, The Barn also offers a large hall with adjacent kitchen for hire. The versatility of the hall makes it ideal for

- Meetings
 - Children's Parties
 - Exhibitions
 - Focal point for your group
 - Events
- ...and much more.
